

Welcome to your site

Sunday, 30 July 2006

Last Updated Sunday, 27 May 2007

Welcome to the new LesbiAgenda cooperative portal. We wish to facilitate exchanges among lesbians in Toulouse, and maybe even the whole Midi-Pyrenees region. To help, we're putting at your disposals tools like a calendar, lists of resources, classified ads etc. We're concentrating as far as possible on local activities, leaving what's happening in other regions to their own sites, but we're also giving you infos on a national level when we don't have something equivalent here.

The site is interactive, all registered users can contribute new items easily, and everyone's info is welcome no matter what their opinions. We try to consolidate in a single place the mass of infos that flow around without necessarily converging. We also hope to become a link between the small groups that don't have the means to communicate with each other, and with those who're isolated at the edges of the official lesbian circles. If you have an event or a resource that you'd like to publicize, it's simple and free to do so.

It's now possible to register, lots of events and resources are already online! Come see what's up for the Fall, and to add your own infos.